MINE STRIKERS JUBILANT.

CLAIM THAT THEY ARE STILL GAINING GROUND.

More Men Quit Work--Output at De Armit's Mines Reduced--Dolan to Have a Hearing.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

PITTSBURG, August 4.—The strikers gained another success at Plum Creek this morning when they induced twenty-one more miners to quit digging and join their ranks. The committees are working industriously in the houses; they first strive to enlist the sympathy of the women and then the men are more easily induced to follow.

The strikers are turning their attention entirely to the diggers knowing that if they came out the others will be forced to follow.

Flaking Strenuous Efforts.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The Cleveland Gas Company is making every effort to keep the mines going. They claim that all the Plum Creek miners are working. Before the miners came out the output was forty cars per day and yesterday the output was thirty-nine. The strikers say they are confident the mine will shut down in a few days at the outside.

The march to Plum Creek mine was begun at 1 o'clock this morning by the campers at Centre School-house. They were reinforced by large bodies from Sandy creek. The Turtle Creek campers arrived at the mines at three o'clock remaining until six, when they returned to camp carrying with them in triumphal procession twenty of the men who had been digging there.

The campers at Sandy Creek are quiet. The mines are practically closed as the output does not exceed two cars per day; the usual output is seventy-five cars. The statement made by the miners that only two men are working at Oak Hill is probably true. In that case the output of eight cars claimed Monday and Tuesday will be reduced to one. The normal output of this mine is ninety.

The demonstration at De Armit's mines is beginning to have its effect. The capacity of the mines is reduced from three hundred and forty to forty-two cars, with a probability of further reduction.

The campers at Turtle Creek were on the march at 3 o'clock this morning for the Oak Hill mines. They returned at half past six and had breakfast. Camp life has been reduced to a system. One hundred men were sent to Plum Creek and three hundred were sent home, leaving six hundred in camp. They have been divided into hundreds, each hundred under a lieutenant. Provisions seem to be plentiful.

The camp is policed by strikers who are sworn in by Burgess and act as borough police.

The hearing of the case against Dolan and other miner's officials charged with unlawful assemblage, has been set for 3 o'clock this afternoon. It is thought the case will be dropped by the defendants giving bail for their appearance at court, and a nolle prosequi entered later.

One of the most notable features of the strike has been the absence of all effort on the part of the operators to induce the miners to continue working. No meeting has been held by them to consider the situation, nor has any attempt been made to start the mines with new men. This was explained today by one of the operators who said he was satisfied to have the strike continue until January the first, as he had enough coal to last him until that time or could get enough at a figure which would allow him to make a profit.

The lower river markets are reported well stocked by reason of the fact that there was almost continuous navigation from January to July and large stocks had been accumulated in consequence. It is not expected that there will be enough water to float the coal barges before November.

THEY MARCH AT FAYETTEVILLE.

Enthusiastic Crowd Cheer the Parade There To-day.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

FAYETTEVILLE, August 4.—The street parade under command of Major E. T. Pemberton, Chief Marshal, came off at 9 o'clock this morning. Nearly every volunteer fire company in the State was represented in the line so far as we could judge. Greensboro's delegation is the largest here and showed up finely. The parade was lustily cheered by citizens and visitors who thronged the line of march. The parade was the largest ever held in the State. The association will hold its next tournament at Goldsboro. Dr. Griffith of Greensboro was re-elected second vice-president of the association.

Present for the Government.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

ROME, August 4.—The minister of war has sent to the United States Embassy here as a present to the American Government the last models of the rifle musket which has been adopted for use in the Station army.

CULLOM ON HIS EAR.

He Pulls the President Over the Coals in August.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 4.—Senator Cullom is out in a letter to his Illinois constituents in which he strongly denounces the appointments Mr. McKinley has been making in that State. He says that the whole of Southern Illinois has been ignored in the President's appointments, notwithstanding the urgent appeals he has been making and in which he stated to the President that the "gang he was appointing in Chicago were not worth a snap for politics, or anything else." The Senator further says that all the appointments had been promised by Hanna before the election, and that they have been made at his dictation.

Another Suicide.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

NEW YORK, August 4.—Mrs. Laura James, a married woman forty-six years old living at East Eighteenth Street committed suicide last night. When her husband rose at 8 o'clock this morning he was attracted by the odor of gas and on entering his wife's room found her dead and the gas jet open.

PHILADELPHIA ON WHEELS.

League of American Wheelmen Meet There To-day.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—The eighteenth annual meeting of the League of American Wheelmen began here this morning. In point of numbers, if nothing else, it certainly eclipses any gathering of similar kind ever held in America.

Every bicycle club in the city has thrown open its doors for the benefit of the visitors and every hospitality possible will be extended them by the wheelmen of the Quaker City. Representatives from nearly every state in the Union are present.

Resume Work.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 4.—As the result of the signing of the amalgamated scale of iron and steel workers at Youngstown yesterday, the Mahoning Iron Company resumed operations this morning. It is also thought that many others will start up in the near future.

Found Dead.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Martine Vanyaht was found dead this morning in the lumber yards at One Hundred and Fortieth Street, near Morris. The cause of her death is supposed to have been starvation and exposure.

The Powers are considering sending another threat to the Sultan on account of his playful method of postponing the peace treaty signing.

CAPTURED IN INDIANAPOLIS.

A Noted Swindler Captured and Brought to Raleigh.

A gentleman who came up from Raleigh on the early morning train informs us that Deputy Sheriff R. C. Rivers was expected in Raleigh this morning with the fellow Clark, alias Durham, who operated a swindling scheme so successfully all over the country, striking several places in North Carolina.

He was arrested in Indianapolis a few days ago on a description sent out by Royal & Borden, furniture dealers of Raleigh, whom he fleeced out of $100. So soon as the requisition papers could be fixed up after receiving news of the arrest in Raleigh, Deputy Sheriff Rivers proceeded to Indianapolis, where he got his man.

The plan the swindler seems to have operated on was to call on furniture dealers and represent himself to be the traveling salesman of some large furniture concern. He would offer a line of goods so cheaply that he generally made a sale. He would then ask the dealer to cash a draft on his house for some sum, usually $75 or $100. By the time the dealer found out he had been fleeced the swindler would be many miles away.

A Pleasant Occasion.

The Baptist Young People's Union of Washington Street Baptist church gave a social at the residence of Mrs. Cooper, on West Washington Street, last evening. The social was well attended, and everybody present enjoyed the evening to the fullest extent. The young ladies furnished splendid music and rendered some recitations which were well received. Refreshments were served.

Dr. J. T. Johnson is president of the Union, and it is the purpose of the organization to give one of these socials once a month.

Wanted His Money Back.

A colored man purchased a marriage license a few days ago. Early this morning he stepped in the Register of Deeds office with the papers and asked Mr. Miller if he could not "pay back;" said the old woman he was to marry had jilted him. The girl, he said, claimed that her health was not very good and so she decided that it would be advisable to declare the match off.

The Register declined to "trade back" and the darkey went away sorrowful to the tune of three dollars.—Winston Sentinel.

That Golf Club.

There is considerable talk, among some of the more sport-loving men of the town, of organizing a golf club here. Very good grounds for the links can be found, within easy reach of the town in this day of bicycles, and the cost of erecting a suitable club house would be nominal. Golf is one of the most manly and wholesome of latter-day games and is worth cultivating. Asheville has had a golf club for several years and Greensboro should be as up-to-date as any city of equal size.

Dangerous to Pedestrians.

A citizen on Mendenhall street complains to a TELEGRAM man that the excavations now being made on his street by the water company are not indicated by a light at night. It is the duty of those having such matters in charge to see to it that all excavations have a light at night, but it seems to have been neglected on this occasion.

A gentleman came near falling in this man-trap last night.

Leaves To-night.

Mr. H. W. Cobb leaves to-night for Danville, where he is to manage the American Tobacco Company's branch at that place.

Mr. C. B. Yuile, of Clarksville, Va., who is to succeed Mr. Cobb at this place, is expected in to-night.

The Statesville Landmark says that Collector Harkins has notified stamp deputies not to receive checks for tobacco and liquor stamps. This was never done before except during the 1893 panic. Cashier Brown of Statesville who was in the revenue service ten years says such an order was never before issued except during the Cleveland panic. "Just why," says the Landmark "it should be promulgated now, when the 'McKinley prosperity' is sweeping over the land, is not apparent, unless it means that there is no difference between a 'Cleveland panic' and 'McKinley prosperity'."

The Salisbury World severely criticizes the Governor for pardoning Robert P. Willis, who obtained $220 at a pistol's point from three elderly ladies. It says "he was prepared to shed blood should the necessity have arisen in order to prevent his own exposure."

SENATOR DANIEL TALKS.

Expressed Himself as Being Pleased With Our Enterprising City.

Hon. John W. Daniel, Virginia's affable Senior Senator, and family, also his son-in-law, Mr. Harper and wife, spent last night at the Benbow.

To THE TELEGRAM man Mr. Daniel expressed himself as being greatly pleased with our charming little city and the evidences of growth and prosperity he saw here.

He said that in the gubernatorial race in Virginia, Hoge Taylor would be nominated by the Democrats and would have a walk over at the fall election.

Asked his opinion of the present tariff as compared with the old McKinley tariff, the Senator said it was a much more stringent measure and would work a great deal more hardship to the South than the former one; that a higher duty had been placed upon the class of goods consumed in this section and no favors had been shown it at all.

The Senator and family went on to Wilmington this morning and from there they go to Southport for a few days.

USED KNUCKS AND KNIVES.

Young Pugilists Try to Knock Out Each Other.

There seems to have been a feud existing for some time between a certain crowd of North and South Greensboro boys. It began some time ago when one of the North Greensboro boys fired a pistol at some gathering over in South Greensboro. Since then the Southsiders have been declaring war against their adversaries, declaring that vengeance should be theirs.

Last night a goodly crowd of boys from both sides were out near the gospel tent, where Mr. Lee is conducting services. They managed to get together and pull off the fight without molestation. There were several in the crowd, and when the battle ended one boy had his scalp laid open with what he thinks was a pair of knucks; another had received a gash from a knife, and others were more or less bruised. The boy who is accused of doing the cutting claims that it was not a knife he used, but his finger nails.

As far as we could learn, they did not disturb the services at the tent, probably, not being near enough, but the boys should be careful about pulling off these battles. Some one may be seriously hurt, or the officers may get after them.

LEARNING'S NEW GOD-FATHER.

We published in yesterday's dispatches the manly protest of the faculty of Brown University against the action of the trustees of that institution in requesting the resignation of Professor Andrews for purely political reasons. It is just such a high-handed course as this that is responsible for the outcry against wealth that has been so unmistakable a feature of American politics for the last few years. That outcry has been extreme in many cases, in some absurd. In view of such cases as this, however,
those who hate and abuse the rich
may well claim some justification.

This action was an outrage pure and simple. It will bear its fruit.
The Populists have been ridiculed
and held up to public contempt, time and again, for their narrowness; yet that resolution of a University Board in "enlightened New England" could be pasted on the resolution of the middle of-the-road Populist pow-wow at election time and leave a four-horse wagon road on both sides of it.

We can but wonder in what light those good people regard this who have been accustomed to shed tears of excessive gratitude, at each fresh donation of Mr. Rockefeller to some institution of learning. There have been some few base souls who, all the while, have held aloof from the popular rejoicings when a new million bounty was announced. They can now have their inning. It would seem that Mr. Rockefeller knew what he was about. He would exchange his Standard Oil earnings for a mortgage on the intellect of the rising generation, and get the sweet fragrance of popular applause into the bargain.

Mr. Rockefeller as a rich man deserves neither praise nor blame; but when he attempts to purchase and pervert our institutions of learning he merits, and will receive the contempt of every self respecting American.
The universities of the middle ages were bad enough, when bigotry dictated their curricula; ours will be infinitely worse when they dare not project themselves beyond the dogma of greed.

SENATOR CULLUM, in to-day's dispatches, denounces Mr. McKinley for appointing men who are not "worth a snap for politics or anything else." This 'anything else' was probably an afterthought. Mr. Cullum is right.
So radical a departure from the Republican policy as appointing a man
"not worth a snap for politics" is not to be tolerated for an instant. How could Mr. McKinley have made such a mistake? The atmosphere of Lake Champlain evidently disagrees with him—he should return to that of Washington.

We have not heard what has taken the place of strawberries and ice cream down at the State farm. If the colored contingent shows any signs of restlessness, the superintendent might try watermelons with satisfactory results.
All the negroes in the gang would become trustees, while the season lasts.

JOAQUIN MILLER, the New York Journal's correspondent to the Klondyke, tells how meek and mild mannered most of the outgoing miners are. If he will join a return party next spring he will find them even more lamb-like.

The woman who rode all the way from Chicago to the Pacific coast on a wheel knew a thing or two. One can afford to stand a good deal of hardship to get two thousand miles from Chicago,

GENERAL WEYLER must be suffering from lock-jaw. He has not proclaimed for several weeks, now.

STATE NEWS.

The Durham Sun has seen six twin cantaloupes this season.

The new Baptist church at the Pilot cotton mills, Raleigh, was dedicated Sunday.

The Governor of North Carolina is a big man—he weighs two hundred and seventy-eight pounds.

The Waynesville Courier says that the farmers of Haywood have fine crops and are doing better than for many years. Good!

The bloodhounds recently purchased by Salisbury have arrived. One of the animals measures 18 1/2 inches from the tip of one ear to the tip of the other. The other measures 16 1/2 inches.

Raleigh Press-Visitor: Mr. Joe Rogers says the County Officers Convention at Morehead City, was a decided success. In his opinion 50 per cent. of the taxable property in the State is not listed.

Gov. Russell has been invited to attend the Prison Congress which meets in Austin, Texas, October 16-20. Also one to attend the thirty-first annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which will meet in Buffalo,
N. Y.

Prof. A. W. Pegues, colored, principal of the Deaf, Dumb and Blind institution for the colored, has resigned.
This has caused much surprise, since the new board re-elected him in June.
No cause is assigned, but it is rumored that he thought himself too much hampered by the new board.

Concord Standard: Wm. A. Smith,
of this place, has consummated a contract with Major Gibbs, of the English army, for the consolidated Bangle gold mine, 840 acres, formerly the Bangle
mine, Dutchman, Fisher, Barnhardt and Carriker. These mines were the best paying ones in North Carolina up to the commencement of the war, when the machinery was confiscated.

News and Observer: A four-legged duck—with both the duck and the legs well formed—is a great curiosity. But this particular duck has another claim to public attention. It was once the property—preserved in alcohol—of Dr.
H. C. Herring, of Concord. Now it belongs to Mr. J. C. L. Harris, who is known to hold something more than a score of offices. And these many offices are the cause of his now having a four-legged duck. Dr. Herring sent it to him yesterday with the message that he hoped it would "help him paddle
some of his canoes."

Fayetteville Observer: The largest watermelon that we have seen this year was raised on the Cottondale plantation, it weighed a few ounces over 68 pounds.—Mrs. Ann Wood, 93 years old, while gathering corn in her garden
on Mumfords street yesterday afternoon, fell and broke her shoulder bone. She is in a critical condition, and will hardly recover from the accident.—
This morning Mr. John Pope and three colored men brought into town and delivered to the county authorities Isham
Wright, a negro who assisted Alex.
Gilmore to rob Mr. McDonald Monday night. The man is probably fatally wounded, a load of duck shot having been emptied into his back. A posse has been scouring the whole country on the east side of the river for Gilmore since the robbery, and last night about 11 o'clock they caught sight of Wright whom they knew to be an accomplice. On seeing the posse Wright ran and then some one shot him with a shot gun, bringing him to the ground with a fearful wound in the back.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Seeds of Truth Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

The truth is, when it comes to the bottom of everything none of us knows anything.—Rev. John Mathews, Methodist, St. Louis.

One Kind of Suicide.

Many people commit spiritual suicide. They quarrel with their family or their neighbors, and thus annihilate their own happiness.—Rev. Warren G.
Partridge, Baptist, Cincinnati.

Life a Dream.

To live is to dream. The interesting part of life is its dreams. To grow old is to lie down in despair amid the wreck of shattered ideals, unless we learn a surer dream.—Rev. Frank Crane, Methodist, Chicago.

The Ancients Feared Death.

The old Greek philosophers wrote many beautiful things about death, but did not themselves desire death, which to them was filled with darkness and shadows.—Father William J. Clark, Catholic, Philadelphia.

Our National Power In Peril.

Today men are anxious about the decline of our national commerce. There is a peril greater than this—the deterioration of our moral life. If this should ensue, not only is our commerce doomed,
but also our national power.—Rev. F.
R. Millar, Ryder Memorial Church,
Chicago.

Politics Uplifted.

Politics is to be left no more to the disreputable elements of society. The best thought and the most aggressive action of the best portions of the community must be reckoned as powerful factors in the settlement of pending issues.—Bishop Fallows, Reformed Episcopal, Chicago.

The Irrepressible Conflict.

There is an irrepressible conflict between good and bad. Nothing has come to us without the price of conflict.
America was not established without conflict. The institutions of this country were founded on a rock that was cemented with blood.—Rev. C. C. Albertson, Methodist, Buffalo.

Why the Wicked Flourish.

Society is composed of our evils, as well as of our virtues. Why do the wicked prosper? is often asked. The answer is, because we let them, and because by their business ability and enterprise they deserve to. They prosper by what is good in them, not by what is bad.—Rev. Merle St. Croix Wright, Unitarian, New York.

The Demon Will Return.

A man may no longer visit places where strong drink is sold and where temptations are great and may denounce and drive away former evil companions who visit him. But if he puts no other lock on the door but his good resolution, then depend upon it the old demon,
seven times worse, will return.—Bishop Littlejohn, Episcopal, Brooklyn.

Sawbuck Versus Boxing Gloves.

When we remember that only about 1 in 1,000 of our population ever goes to college, our $50,000 college gymnasia, it will be seen, have done little to develop muscle compared with a $1 saw-buck, and as between the boxing gloves and the plow handles the plow will take the blue ribbon every time.—Rev.
H. D. Jenkins, Presbyterian, Kansas City.

Our First Duty.

Our first duty is to ourselves—to keep body and mind in good working order.
The laws of health were never so well understood as now, and the means of culture so numerous, yet there is danger of running after windmills, of mistaking sound and noise for sense.—Rev.
Charles G. Ames, Church of Disciples, Boston.

Merq Lack of Confidence.

What is it that makes the rich man look down upon the poor with fear, to resort to the mistaken principle that upholds the few against the majority?
Why is that the poor man looks with envy upon the rich man and wishes to resort to revolutionary measures for the even distribution of God's goods? It is all through want of confidence in God.
—Rev. John Scully, Catholic, Philadelphia.

The Beginning of the End.

The very moment that the majority of the citizens of a community choose to get their living by selling shoddy goods by lying advertisements, by skillfully transferring to their pockets the wealth that other people have produced, and prefer wealth even of tainted money rather than a crust with a spotless integrity, that moment, if there is a divine justice in the world, that justice is pledged to accomplish industrial overthrow.—Rev. W. D. Hillis, Central Music Hall, Chicago.

Epidemic Pessimism.

It is well to know the evils that exist,
but also well to avoid creating an epidemic of pessimism which will work untold disaster by the omission of the regnant forces of good that exist. Ruskin thrilled with rapturous delight as he looked at rock and wave and herb,
at grass and flowers, but when care, strife and doubt arose in his mind he says nature ceased to give her revelations of beauty and glory. Pessimism is a poor investment, and when epidemic sometimes reaches good men.—
Rev. G. R. Wallace, Congregationalist,
Chicago.

Wholesale Murder.

People shocked at the sight or mention of blood and who would not think to lift up the hand in murderous violence yet kill by ways they think not of; in municipal life by the promoting or allowing of unhealthy conditions; in business life by illicit traffic in saloons and brothels and by that harsh, selfish competition that slays the employee or pushes the brother tradesman to the wall; in political life, where men stride rough shod on each other and grind and crush out life. Our civil laws need to be guarded and preserved, lest political changes mean little else than wholesale pillage and murder.—Rev. J. W. Wed-dell, Baptist, Philadelphia.

Doctors and Patients.
A physician with a large practice sees strange sights—some humorous, some pitiful and some irritating. Sir Benjamin W. Richardson, commenting on the fact that these singular sights tend to produce in the doctor's mind the feeling "All things are alike to all," says he once surprised a bishop by saying that the writer of Ecclesiastes must have been a doctor.

Once a woman who kept a fuel store brought her husband to Dr. Richardson in a little cart with his body covered with small coal, under the idea that by this means she was keeping him warm. Another woman to whom he prescribed an ether mixture, therefore volatile, first made it warm in order that it might be agreeable to take.

He was called in the early days of his London practice to visit a servant in a large house, and overheard the mis-tress ask the housekeeper: "What sort of a man is he, and how did he come? Did he drive?"

"I think you'll like him, ma'am," replied the housekeeper, "but, poor man, he is only a walking doctor yet."

People made a distinction between the walking and the driving doctor in former days. A physician with a large paying practice used to ride in a chariot which cost 300 guineas. Now people do not care if a doctor comes in a landau or a brougham or a cab, provided he comes quickly.

The old physician was known by everybody as a doctor. He wore a long, broad tailed coat, knee breeches, Hes-sian boots, a frilled shirt with ruffles at the wrists and a large white cravat of the finest lawn. He carried a cane with a perforated box at the top, which held camphor or some other smelling sub-stance. When he was called to a consul-tation, he expected to find a table spread with wine glasses, a decanter of brandy and a bottle of wine.—Youth's Companion.

Treasure Trove.

Treasure trove interests everybody. Mr. Robinson tells of 11 crowns of gold, set with precious stones, found in 1858 by some Spanish peasants near Toledo. One of the crowns has the Gothic name of Suintilla, who reigned from 621 to 631. Who buried them? We shall never know. The brooch of Tara, Irish work of the seventh century, was picked up by a child on the seashore in 1850. A viking robber may have dropped it. The bullion of English kings was found in 1840 at Cuerdale, where it had been laid in 910. The ring of Ethelwulf of Wessex turned up at Laverstock on the Test. As to draw-ings, a friend of mine found one by an intimate friend of Michael Angelo in a dirty little print shop for half a crown.

At Merton my friend Mr. Eason found a treasure trove of old mezzotints, beauties, in the attic over his college rooms. The letters of Warwick the king maker were discovered in a loft over a coachhouse by Mr. Maxwell Lyte. The magic crystal of King Lo-thaire in the British museum was sold by a curiosity dealer, inscription and all, for 10 francs. The museum paid £267. But why "magic?" The ball is engraved with Susanna and the Elders. Otherwise "Miss X" might go and have a "scurry" in it.—Andrew Lang in Long-man's Magazine.

Two Kinds of Gardens.

Most of us have met the two kinds of gardens which Alfred Austin, the Eng-lish poet, differentiates as owners' gardens and gardeners' gardens. According to the poet laureate, nearly all the grand and costly gardens are gardeners' gardens. And then he alludes to the small cottage gardens, "little village or secluded plots, cultivated and made beautiful by the pathetic expedients of the poor," which seem to have a charm that the others cannot rival. It is in-deed the glory of our beloved art that it is open to the rich and poor alike. The former seek to make much of it, the latter find some of their sweetest joys and delights therein. It is one of the commonest of events for the poor to grow flowers so handsome and so abundant that a monarch might well envy their success. Flowers are the appropriate gift of love. Is it strange, therefore, that success in their culture seems to be largely in proportion as we love them?—Vick's Magazine.

A Reckless Waste.

A Kennard street man who has until recently been the possessor of a large mustache and very little hair shaved off the former. When he reached home after this sacrifice, his family had to look at him several times before they recognized him. After awhile they be-came more accustomed to his altered appearance, and finally his little girl, whose looks still denoted her astonish-ment, said: "Well, anyway, papa, it was a shame to waste your mustache. Why didn't you have the barber stick it on the top of your head?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Composite.

Southern countries are usually ad-vanced in cruel and novel methods of punishment. Puerto Rico has one which is known as the composite.

It consists in beating the individual with a "manate" until he faints. Some-times, however, it is carried out to the extreme and becomes a form of capital punishment, the last blows being given to persons sentenced to death with a piece of iron.

Infectious Maladies in Italy.

According to an eminent Italian hy-gienic expert, official medical returns show that in Italy 200,000 persons die every year from infectious—that is, from preventable—maladies, most of them being young, "the hope of fam-ilies."

BREEZY NOTES AND PERSONALS FROM HIGH POINT.

Evangelist Lee Will Begin a Series of Meetings on the 15th--Benefit Entertainment for Band.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Aug. 4, '97.
Evangelist Lee will pitch his tent in High Point on the 15th of this month to conduct a series of religious services here.

Prof. Vestal, of Trinity, came over to High Point to-day to meet Prof. John Kirk, the first principal of the school there, who arrived this morning.

Rev. William P. Pinkham and Isaac Steves, of Rhode Island, are attending the Yearly Meeting and stopping at Dr. W. G. Bradshaw's.

The Representative meeting adjourned this morning to meet at 8:30 a. m. Thursday. The meeting of Ministers and Oversight adjourned to meet Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Rev. James J. Harvey, of Poplar Ridge, Ind., is one of the visiting Friends.

Miss Eliza Stone is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. N. R. Richardson.

Rev. N. R. Richardson left to-day to attend the Mt. Airy District Conference at Pinnacle.

Our policemen go about their work very quietly, but they make it pay the town. Their collections last month amounted to $120 for fines, &c.

There is a docket full of cases awaiting, at the mayor's court, for judgment tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Ada Allen, of Troy, passed through last night for Baltimore.

Rev. P. L. Groome spent a couple of hours in High Point last night.

E. D. Steele spent yesterday in Greensboro.

The Misses Johnston, of Washington City, are visiting at D. O. Cecil's.

Rev. James R. Jones and family are camping at the meeting grounds.

Mr. Milton Crawford announces that he has raised $500 toward paying his way to Klondike. He will start as soon as the other $500 is raised. Send in your mites.

It is learned that the Misses Blair, of Durham, are arranging to give an entertainment in the near future for the benefit of the band.

Hon. W. M. Little, Consul General from the United States to Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras, is in the city, visiting his sister, Mrs. L. L. Wheeler. Mr. Little is a native of North Carolina. He has held this post for three years and is likely to continue there throughout the present administration. He is at present off on a vacation and leaves tonight for Washington.

High Point's second baseball team drove over to Thomasville yesterday afternoon and walked off with the Thomasville boys to the tune of 9 to 5. The second game between these two teams will be played here Saturday week.

Dr. Edwards, a prominent dentist of Durham, is looking around in High Point with a view to locating permanently at this place. Strangers always receive a hearty welcome here. It is a good place to move to.

A slight mistake was made in yesterday's letter. The ordinance providing the sale of refreshments on next Sunday applies only to the territory within a radius of 300 yards of the church. Outside of this circle the weary traveler can drink and forget his sorrow, for next Sunday only, as at all other times the ordinance applies to the whole town.

S. Otho Wilson was a passenger on the south bound train this morning.

Rev. and Mrs. P. L. Groome passed through on their way to Salisbury this morning. They go to attend the funeral of Mrs. Groome's father, Mr. R. H. Broadfield, who died Sunday night at his home in Chester, S. C.

Capt. N. M. Lawrence was on the south bound train this morning with a number of sweet voiced orphans from Oxford, who are going down to Charlotte to give a concert.

W. H. Wortham, of Durham, passed through for Troy this morning.

P. C. Ennis, of Raleigh was in High Point yesterday.

Henry Blount, the famous Wilson lecturer, was registered at the Bellevue last night.

A Grown Sunflower.

Mr. Andrew J. Williams, who lives on North Greene street, has the largest sunflower growing in his garden we have ever seen. It measures just 55 inches in circumference and 10 inches in diameter, and is growing on a stalk 10 feet high.

The News' New Dress.

The Charlotte News now comes out in its new dress, Mergenthaler typesetting machines being used.

The News is one of the best dailies in the State, and Brother Dowd is to be congratulated on his enterprise.

STRICTLY PERSONAL.

Hot and Dusty Travelers Passing Through the City.

Misses Cora and Louise Holt, daughters of L. B. Holt, of Graham, are visiting Mrs. E. C. Mebane, on West Market street.

C. A. Bray returned last night from a trip to Virginia and left to-day on a visit to some of the South Carolina tobacco markets.

A. W. E. Capel, who recently moved from Ramseur to Troy, Montgomery county to engage in cotton manufacturing, is in the city.

J. Speight Hunter returned from Burlington last night. He told the TELEGRAM this morning that when it comes to new buildings our hustling little sister city is right up in the procession.

R. B. Boone and family came up from Durham last night, stopping at the Benbow. Mr. Boone, who is an attorney of Durham, has been suffering from nervous prostration for some time and came here with his family for a month's rest.

Evangelist Lee's Singer.

Prof. J. A. Humphreys, who is conducting the singing at Evangelist Lee's meeting, is a singer of more than ordinary gifts. He has been assisting Mr. Lee off and on for more than two years, and has met with splendid success in his work.

His home is in Lynchburg, Va., where he was the leader of the choir in Centenary Methodist church for a number of years and superintendent of the Sunday school for quite a while. He is now a member of the board of stewards of this church.

Prof. Humphreys is a clever Christian gentleman, pleasant and affable in manners, and our people are glad to have him among us.

Albright-Johnson.

This evening at 6 o'clock Mr. James A. Albright will be married to Miss Alice Johnson, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. H. Johnson, three miles north of the city.

Mr. Albright is well known here, having held a position with the Southern Express Company at this place last year. He is a brother-in-law of Mr. Charles Field, of Houston & Bro.

We extend congratulations to this young couple and hope their pathway through life may always be strewn with flowers.

To be Married This Evening.

Mr. James M. Phipps, a conductor on the Southern railroad, and Miss Leta Rice, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. F. Rice, are to be married this evening at 7 o'clock in Westminster Presbyterian church. Rev. Rosser A. Brown, of Waycross, Ga., will perform the ceremony.

New Manager for Singer Company.

Mr. H. L. Strubling took charge of the Singer Manufacturing Company's office here this morning. Mr. Mangum having been transferred to Charlotte. The new manager came here from Seneca, S. C., and, with his family, are residing at 413 Asheboro Street.

We extend them a cordial welcome to Greensboro and hope they may find our lovely city a pleasant home.

LOCAL NEWS.

Read what Pearce says about Afton tobacco in the one-cent column.

H. L. Strubling, the new district manager for the Singer Manufacturing Company, advertises for seven men in today's TELEGRAM.

We were pleased to see Mr. R. W. Brooks, who has been confined at his home on South Elm since Saturday, on the streets today.

Mr. Baird, the yard master of the Southern informs us that on last Saturday they handled eighty-two box cars at the freight depot here.

We are glad to learn that Mr. J. M. Walker's baby, who has been so extremely ill, is improving. Hopes are now entertained for its recovery.

Mr. Longest, living with his daughter, Mrs. Stewart, corner of Ashe and Buchanan streets, who has been ill with fever so long, is improving.

J. A. Byrd, barber, has an ad in today's TELEGRAM. He is now running three chairs in his barber shop, which is located in the McAdoo House building.

E. K. Huff, the wagon manufacturer, whose shops are located on South Davie street, is building a fine dray for a Spartanburg, S. C., firm. Merit will tell.

A jolly crowd of young people and children from south of town passed through the city this morning on their way to the Battle Ground, where they have a picnic to-day.

Winston Sentinel: Capt. R. B. Glenn is still district attorney and will remain on Uncle Sam's pay roll until Mr. Holton is appointed and qualifies. His successor is expected to be announced daily.

We were glad to see John A. Gilmer on the streets to-day for the first time since he had his leg broken some time ago. He is sprouting a moustache which bids fair to make his physiognomy very ornamental at no far distant day.

The front of the new Methodist publishing house on South Elm will be of white fire brick and gray granite. This will present a very pleasing appearance and will give relief to the dead monotony of the ordinary brick block. It is a step in the right direction. When a city is building is the time for attention to be directed to beauty in effect as well as mere utility.

THE INTEREST GROWS.

"Memory" the Subject of Mr. Lee's Discourse Last Night.

The tent was well filled last evening and Mr. Lee preached one of his usual strong and forcible sermons. "Memory" was his subject, and he took his text from the portion of Scripture relating the fate of the rich man and Lazarus.

His illustrations were vivid and to the point. He did not attack the whiskey business as on Sunday night, but used it in making some very apt illustrations. The singing was soul-inspiring.

Nine young men confessed conversion, and quite a number of other persons asked for prayers.

The indication are that the interest in these meetings is increasing and that great good will be accomplished. Mr. Lee impresses every one with his deep earnestness. He believes in a conversion which springs from a deep conviction and grows through a sincere and earnest repentance.

The Bomb-Throwing Case.

A writ of habeas corpus was sworn out in the case of the State vs. Bob Newlin, charged with being implicated in the bomb throwing at Mr. Thigpen's house, the other week, and the case was heard before Judge Douglass yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The State was represented by Solicitor W. P. Bynum, Jr., and the defendant by D. Schenck, Jr. No new evidence was produced and Newlin was remanded to jail to await the next regular term of our Superior court.
